Pages for Pondering

foreword

Rich indeed is the school whose students have been endowed with some phrases of lasting truth and beauty which may serve them for life.

During the routine which swallows hours, days, weeks, and years until that final reward – graduation, students seldom sense all that is transpiring. After graduation, a moment of reflection reveals the essence of the preceding years.

“Pages for Pondering” offers not only a key to the past but also a desire for the future to have all readers use these lines to lift themselves to higher levels of emotion and achievement. Good results from pondering on things that deserve praise: things that are true, noble, right, pure, lovely, and honorable.

Man's thoughts control his acts.

community concern

Communal stability depends not upon time, place, or people. Citizens need not read a chronicle, survey a map, nor tally a census to determine greatness.

That community which shows deep concern — anxious though inspired by interest and regard for its citizens — ranks highest.

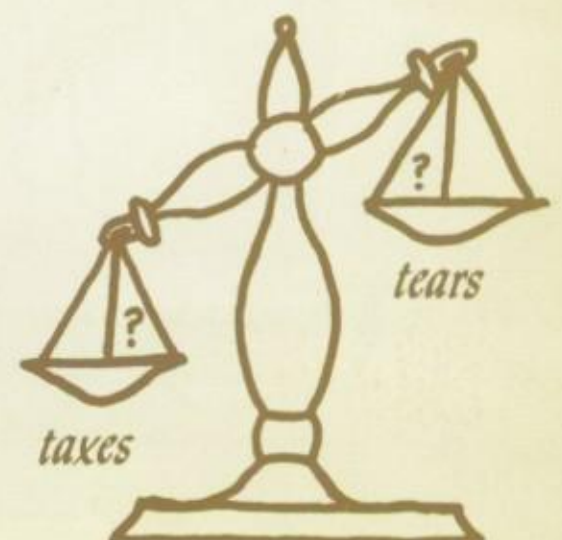

The citizens of Arnold exhibit this concern in their "corners of care":

Children play in Roosevelt Park.

Teenagers mature at the AYO. Families skate or listen at the arena.

Retirees loll in the parklets. Visitors dock at the marina.

These small centers of concern may be trifles, but trifles make greatness and greatness is no trifle.

Educators

teacher talk

No dearth of advice through literature exists. Always there have been and forever there will be adequate literary sources of guidance for young people.

The admonitions may come in the Old English phrases of William Shakespeare as he gives Polonius words for Laertes, in the Scotch dialect of Robert Burns as he writes a letter to a young friend, or in the captivating tones of John F. Kennedy as he addresses a nation.

Consequently, youth never need lack good counsel.

Similarly, teachers everywhere and always are sitting, standing, or strolling in classrooms and corridors peddling their wares consciously and unconsciously.

These are the silent sermons of the ages.

Knowledge is a reservoir; wisdom is a fountain.

graduate greatness

On campuses everywhere long lines of academically-clad seniors walk in step to Pomp and Circumstance.

Diplomas encased in white envelopes and arranged in neatly tied rows await delivery to eager graduates.

Parents, relatives, and friends sit expectantly in audiences, some reliving a similar experience, others making mental notes on last minute preparations for that big home celebration.

All this because a student has reached his goal – graduation!

*Knowledge is proud that it knows so much;
wisdom is humble that it knows no more.*

Success

He has achieved success who has lived well, laughed often and loved much; who has gained the respect of intelligent men and the love of little children; who has filled his niche and accomplished his task; who has left the world better than he found it, whether by an improved poppy, a perfect poem, or a rescued soul; who has never lacked appreciation of earth's beauty or failed to express it; who has looked for the best in others and given the best he had; whose life was an inspiration; whose memory is a benediction.

Mrs. A. J. Stanley

Underclassmen

student stride

Thrust from the childhood world of wonder and fantasy into the vast cauldron of expectation and curiosity, the teenager finds he is merely becoming – becoming more aware of himself but unable to control the pattern.

Between the emotions – joy and sorrow, enthusiasm and lethargy, love and hate, empathy and apathy – a thin line of separation brings sudden shifts.

*In infancy the expression is wonder;
in youth, boundless expectation and curiosity.*

Club Members

joiner judgement

To join or not to join – that is the question. Whether it is better to ignore membership and have idleness or seek membership and have responsibilities.

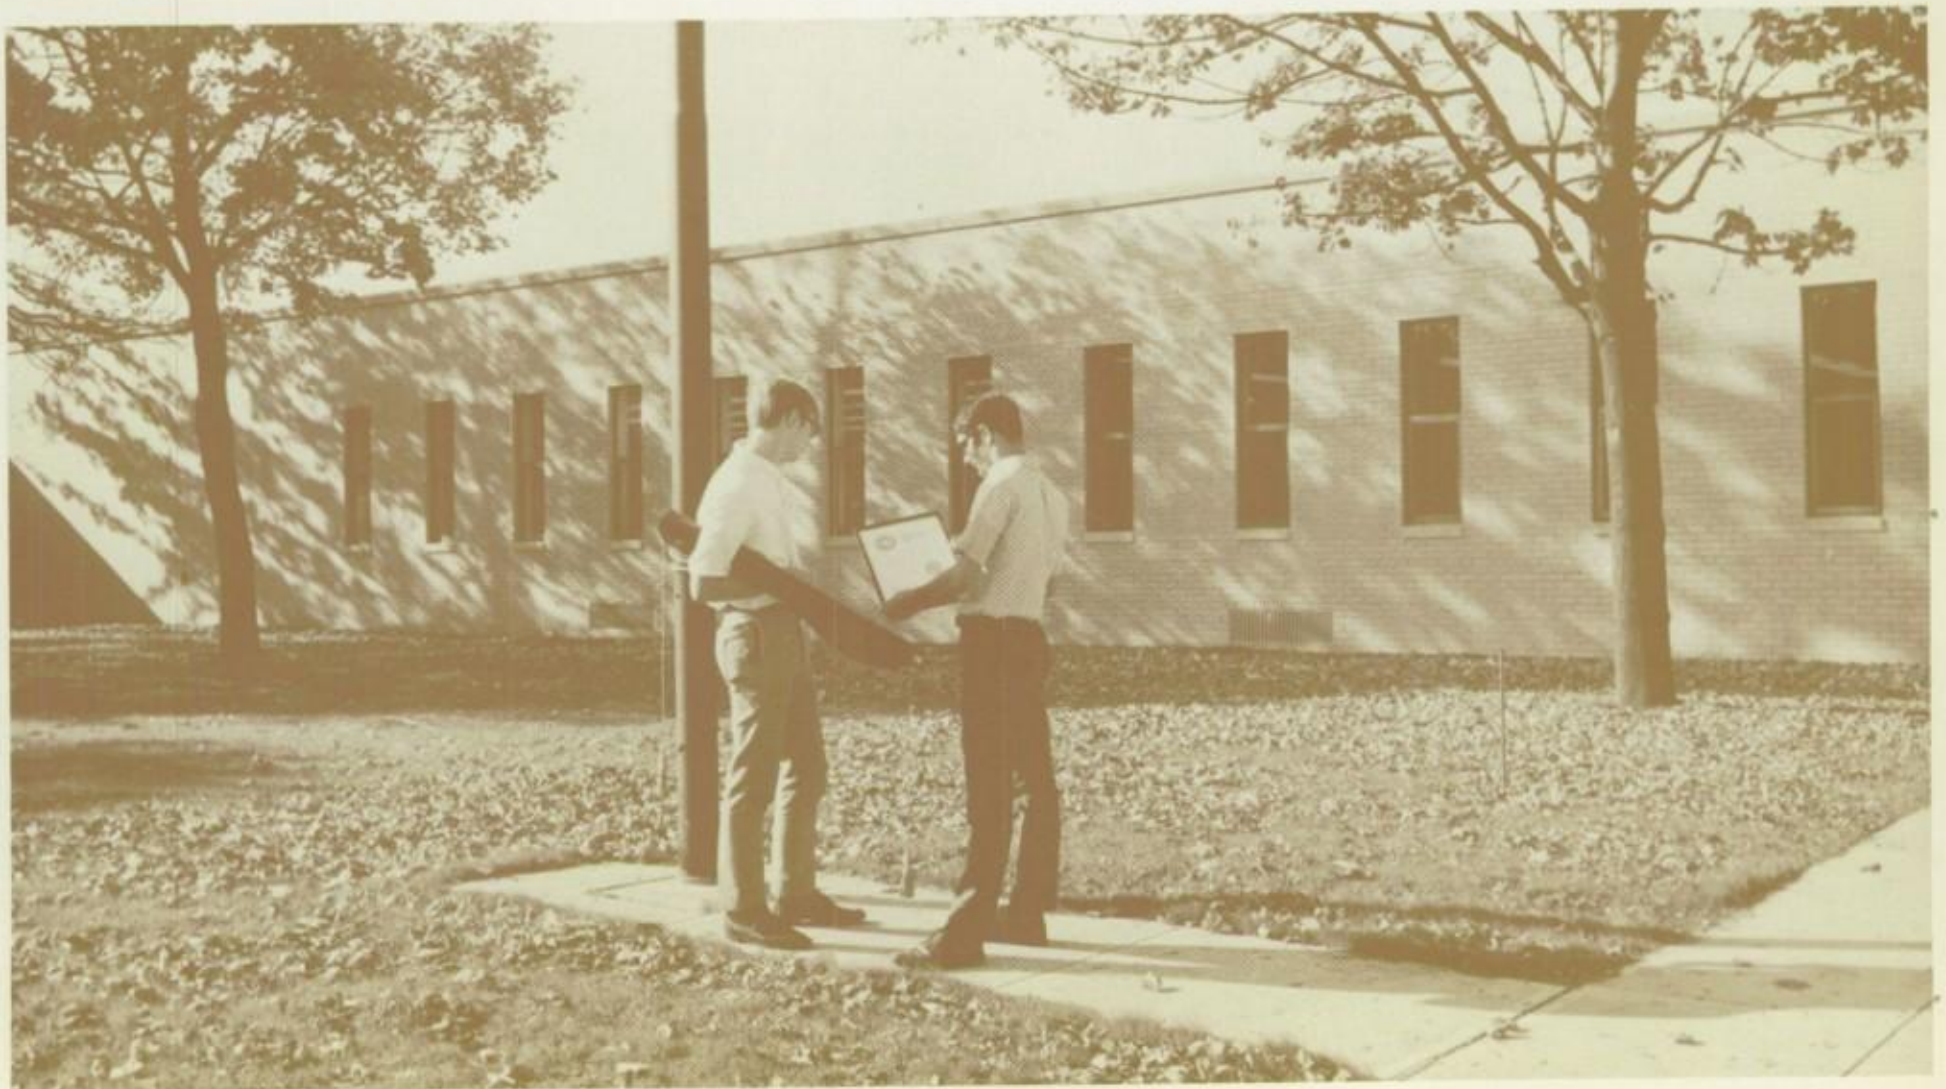

Some clubs confer honor, some develop skills, some create interest, others give guidance.

Whatever the value membership entails unwavering will.

*False freedom permits one to do what he likes;
true freedom permits one to do what he ought.*

This emblem represents the high ideals of the NHS.

THEY ARE GREATEST WHO SERVE MOST

For forty-eight years the National Honor Society has worked to bring the accomplishment of outstanding high school students to the attention of classmates, parents, communities, and colleges. Because of their conspicuous leadership, intellectual achievements, loyalty to high ideals, and character, they best serve by keeping in touch with the "Masses" to create a desire in those who have not been encouraged to develop fully their powers. The NHS recognizes no specialized ability, skill, or talent; it looks upon education as a total product measured by Scholarship, Leadership, Service, and Character.

Work . . . work . . . work!

Arnold High School yearbooks have run a gamut of names from CAULDRON (1925) to ARLION (1946) to VALAKRON (1968).

Sporadically the CAULDRON existed. The ARLION bowed out with a trilogy of editions: Time to Remember, Patterns of Destiny, and Studies in Happiness.

In '67-'68 Valley High released its first dual editions of the VALAKRON, a chronicle (kron) of Arnold and Ken High (ak) combined as Valley High (Val).

Thus a new trilogy began, its first book entitled Transition. The second member had no theme name.

Pages for Pondering marks the final release of the Arnold Campus VALAKRON.

Who are the best fakers?

Ray, you draw perfect circles.

Entertainers

performer pleasure

To the cadence of a 1-2-3-4 cheerleaders, majorettes, and band members run the gamut of their routines. With spirits soaring and energies inexhaustible these high-stepping performers entertain the spectators.

Choir members blend their voices for public hearing and judging.

On that eventful night of nights promgoers dance to the rhythm of talented combos.

Thus are people entertained.

*Musicians are not commended for playing long,
but for playing well.*

School Spirit

Victory! We Won!

Signatures shouted school spirit as students in homes, on streets, and also in the school gymnasium competed against the other schools in Western Pa. to see which school had the most school spirit.

Triumphant Trio

This contest was sponsored by a McKeesport radio station known as WIXZ. In winning this contest, the students received a portable T.V., a Juke box, a plaque and a school dance sponsored by the radio station.

With the 100 percent cooperation and determination of the whole student body the Arnold Campus of Valley High achieved the most school spirit.

writers' wit

Where does more confusion exist than in a yearbook composing room. There the tapping of pencils, clicking of pens, shuffling of papers, glare of pictures, and maze of layouts create bedlam.

Choices are in evidence but decisions are difficult.

Pictures are everywhere but names are missing. Finally after listing and relisting, carding and recarding, sorting and resorting pages fall into position.

Order follows disorder.

Potpourri – pictures, puzzles, poetry, prophecy – herein lies the answer to any reader's desire.

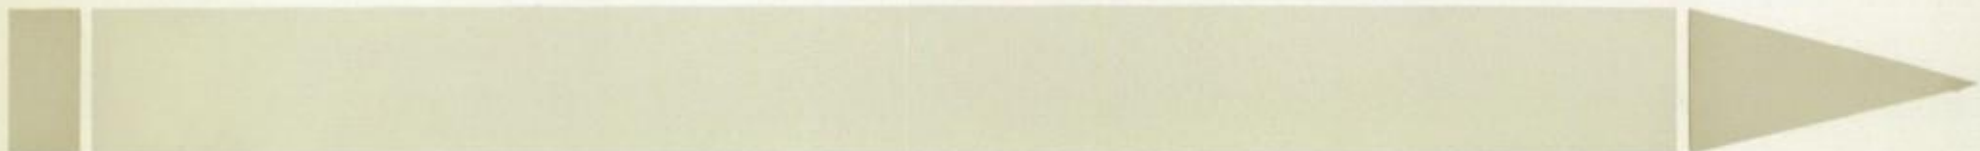

*Subjects that will not bear banter are suspicious;
jesters which will not bear examination are false wit.*

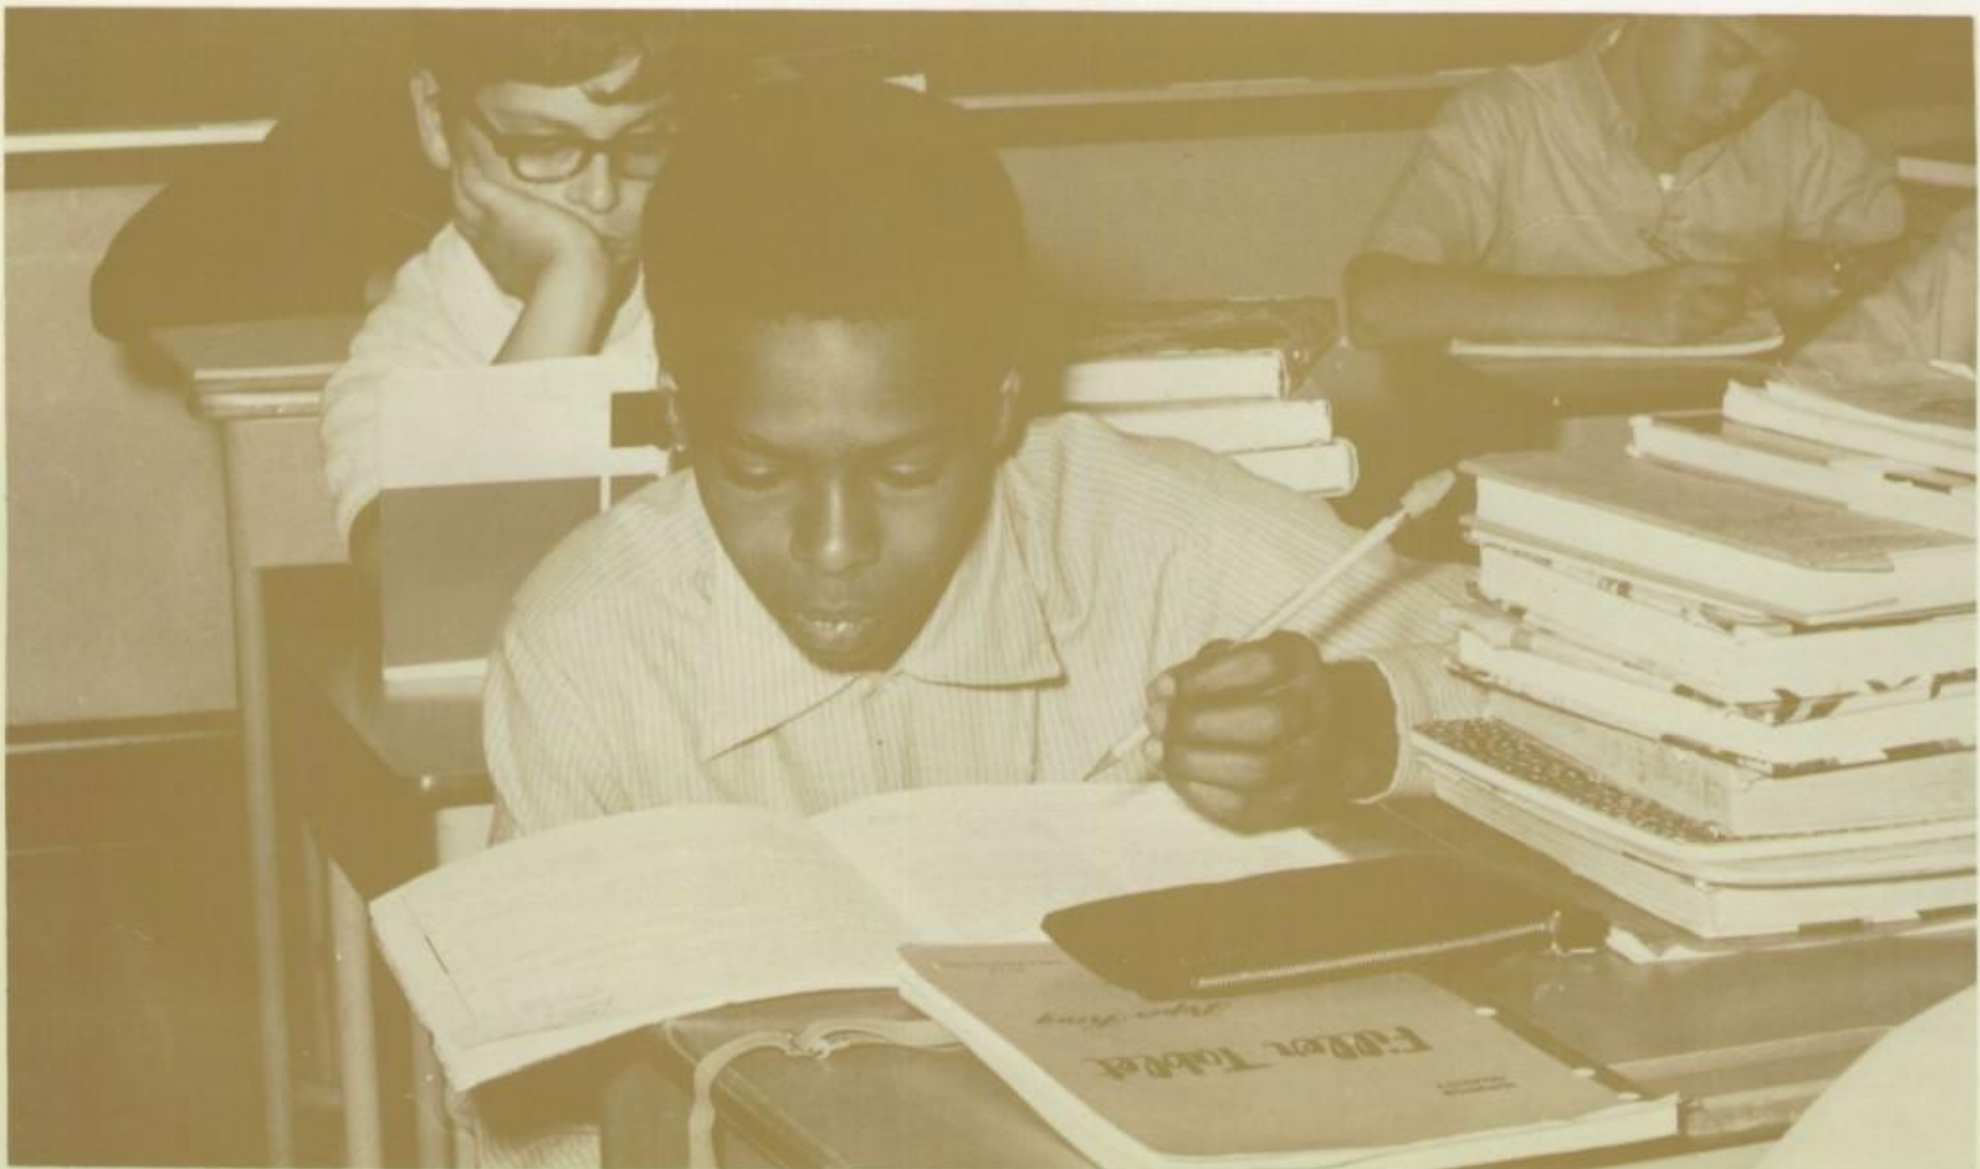

I wish I knew the answer.

One more problem!

School Scribes

Desks ought to be larger!

Concentration

I prefer nails to pencils.

Dreamers and Schemers

Reading and writing – no 'rithmetic!

Hark, someone knocks!

Deep thought . . . weighty matter!

Just think, only one more day until Christmas vacation!

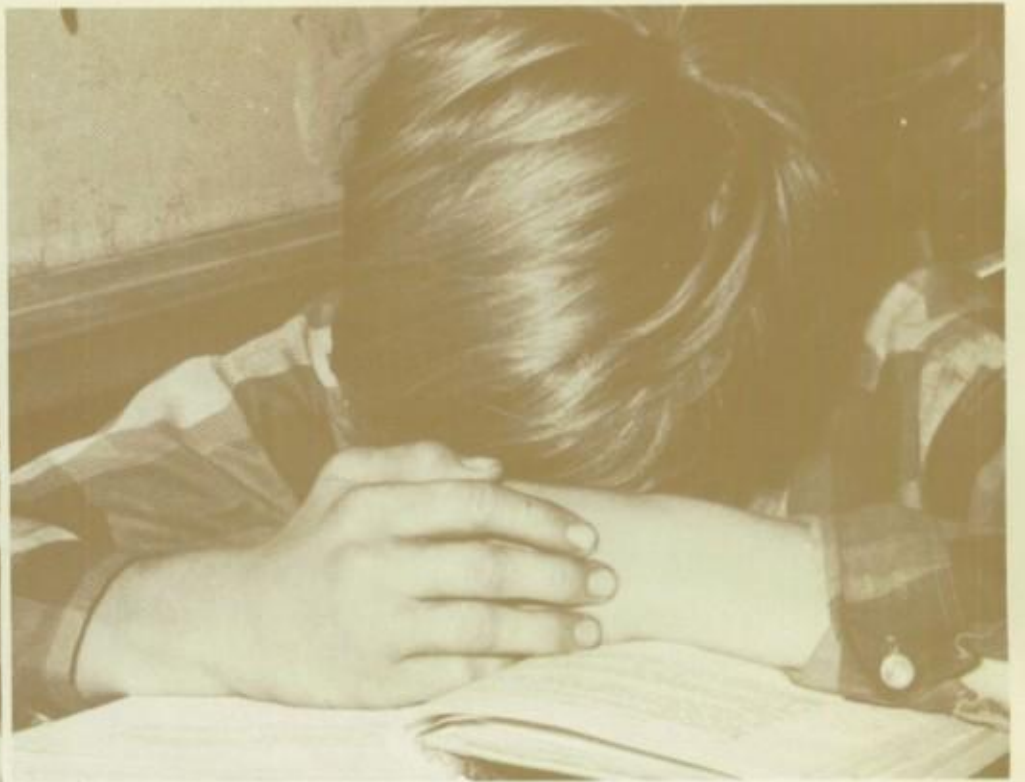

. . . Physics test – don't care to talk about it.

I wonder what he's doing now.

Camera shy!

Either hand makes a good prop for daydreaming.

New camera – takes its own picture.

At last, all the candle orders!

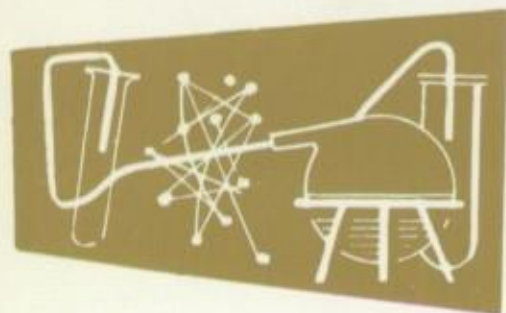

Concentration

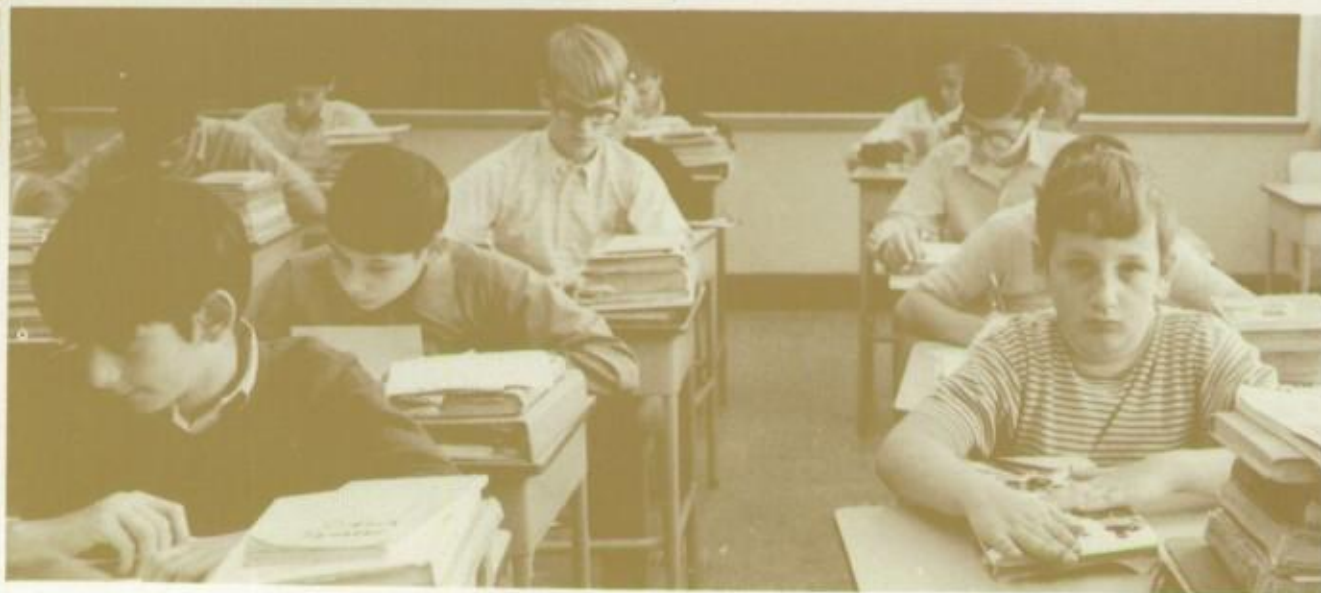

If I shut my eyes I won't need to answer.

... 5:32 will never come.

Stop showin' off, Buz!

Scholarly Sessions

I hate Monday mornings.

Boy, are these jokes old!

Future leaders – maybe even a president!

Comfortable?

On guard!

I got an A in trig!

I forgot it was Saturday.

No, I'm not the principal.

I'll

Last minute notes.

Monday morning blahs!

Palatable Pencils

I'm so hungry, I could eat a pencil.

Corn on the cob, anyone?

Graduation

Depending upon your attitude
School thunders upon you with a gallop
Or it creeps by, minute by slow minute
Until suddenly, Graduation Day is here!

Graduation is a change of tide in life.
It is a time of bewilderment, of excitement.
It brings on a feeling of emptiness, yet fulfillment.

Mixed emotions envelop the atmosphere

Gone will be the smells of new paper and chalk
And the sound of banging locker doors
Reminisced will be the buttered popcorn at a game,
The high school dances, and Proms.

The dream that began in childhood
Now may have beginnings of reality.
Whether your goals are set high, or not so high
That dream shines brighter than ever this day.

Class of 1970 reminisces

At graduation, seniors begin to reminisce about the "old days." Their conversation is sprinkled liberally with "remember when . . ." Then they launch into an old, almost forgotten memory. Hopefully, this history will create a pattern of reverie for the class of 1970.

For some, 1957 began their educational processes as they entered Kindergarten. Mrs. Sennett and Mrs. Bailey were patient with them, knowing that by the year's end they'd know their colors, have the agility to tie their own shoes, and best of all, never spill their milk during snack period.

With first grade, they were all in school and full-time students who had to sit still all morning and afternoon. For some, it was a rather painful experience! Reading seemed an insurmountable task, but once learned, the adventures of Dick, Jane, and Sally were theirs.

By third grade, with the major problems of reading, 'riting, and 'rithmetic out of the way, the students turned their thoughts to the stage. There, for the first time, Victoria Avenue and Fourth Avenue met together to see the dramatic plays of each class. From "Sleeping Beauty" to English Grammar plays, emotions were free. Usually, extreme relief was the main emotion at the play's conclusion.

Geography provided a new worry for some in fourth grade. That year they "traveled" to South America and even Africa.

With fifth grade came science with Mr. Capizzi. From watching TV classes to being shocked by a static machine, they had a full year! They were also recognized as future voters. Remember the time the patrol boys from Fourth Avenue went to a party at the Ches-arena on the Firemen's squad truck? Fourth Avenue "came up" to Victoria Avenue to become the sixth grade class of '64.

Junior high came with bells to make the time limits of classes and they had seven teachers a day. Although confused, they managed very well.

Eighth grade was synonymous to reading with Mrs. Sack. They were inundated with masses of vocabulary and comprehension tests.

Emerging unscathed, they were ready to become freshmen. Since they were now an organized class, they had the privilege of electing class officers and selling magazine subscriptions. With the arrival of parochial students, the class became slightly larger and a lot more fun. In the way of classes, gym and Mr. Paletta's civics kept them hopping!

In the fall of 1967 as sophomores, they were allowed to choose a name, colors, and a mascot for their new school. For athletic events, they now went to the New Kensington Campus. Football games provided few thrills, but the basketball games more than made up the difference! They followed their fabulous Vikings to Pittsburgh to watch them play. New and different classes left them little time for boredom. The mysteries of typing, biology, geometry, bookkeeping, and foreign languages kept them awake to say the least! On the last day, the excitement of class rings almost surpassed the joy of school's closing for the summer.

Their junior year held one great thought — prom. Yes, the prom monopolized their thoughts as they sold Christmas candles, received their bids, worked on the decorations, and finally chose their gowns and dinner jackets. "Fantasyland" was as great as they'd anticipated.

Along with the prom, another activity popped up. This was one in which anyone who could write could participate. Yes, the WIXZ contest. After writing the names on seemingly endless petitions, they copped the number one place in the WIXZ High School Spirit Contest.

The next year was the final one for they were then seniors with a beautiful new addition to the school and new improvements on the other parts of the building. They applied to colleges, business schools, and eagerly awaited the letters of decision. Suddenly it was spring and the twelve years had gone by all too quickly. They donned the blue cap and gown, were graduated, and continued to make history as the class of 1970.

Gabby Answers —

Dear Gabby,

I recently won a free trip to Rome on "Let's Make a Deal." While on my trip I met a dashing, debonair, and sexy Italian. He proposed to me and I didn't know what to say to him.

I am madly in love with him. Can a girl of 17 find happiness with a 50 year-old man?

Curious

Dear Curious,

I don't think you can, but I can! Enclosed is my name, address, and telephone number.

Dear Gabby,

I like this girl, but she doesn't like me. She likes my friend, but my friend does not like her. He likes her friend, and she likes me.

We fellows want to take the girls out on a double date. How can we put it straight to them which one is going with which?

Confused

Dear Confused,

You're confused?

Dear Gabby,

I am on the yearbook staff at the Arnold Campus of Valley High School. I have eight extra pages in my book. What should I do with them?

The Editor

Dear Editor,

Enclosed is a folder of 24 pictures of me. Help yourself.

I took a piece of living clay
And gently forced it, day by day,
And molded it with my power and art –
A young child's soft and yielding heart.

I came again when years were gone –
It was a man I looked upon;
He still that early impress bore,
And I could change it, nevermore.

Blundering grownups need children's virtues:
joy and enthusiasm of expectations tolerance that forgets differences genuineness of being oneself faith to trust others

Advertisers

merchant money

Firsts sometimes appear last!

In yearbook planning finances take first place.

No wise person steps into any big undertaking without first considering the cost.

Likewise in publishing an annual, need for money takes precedence over all else.

But, in the finished product, lists of patrons and the names of loyal advertisers appear at the end.

*Three things men can do with their possessions:
steadfastly hoard, lavishly waste, or intelligently spend them.*

ROY A. HUNT JUNIOR HIGH

Let earnest hearts solemnly consecrate this building to its high and holy purpose. Let the youth of this community for generations to come gather in this place for instruction in knowledge and training in virtue. May all conditions for an enlightened education exist.

Especially may teachers be examples of excellence in scholarship and character, seekers after goodness and truth, lovers of children, enthusiasts and adepts in the finest of all arts — the development and inspiration of children.

May no child pass from this building without having been made more intelligent, more thoughtful, more courageous, more virtuous, and in every way more capable of wise and just, useful and noble living.

Education does not mean teaching people what they do not know. It means teaching them to behave as they do not behave. It is not teaching the youth the shapes of letters and the tricks of numbers, and then leaving them to turn their arithmetic to roguery, and their literature to lust. It means, training them into the perfect exercise of their bodies and souls. It is a painful, continual, and difficult work to be done by kindness, by watching, by warning, by precept, and by praise, but above all — by example.

to get experience

ideas.

The entire object of true education is to make people not merely to do the right things, but to enjoy them;

YOUTH —

We call them wrong! God pity us, the blind,
Imputing evil as our grandsires did,
When we explored new realms with feet and mind,
Uncovering what old fogies damned and hid!
The dreams, the wanton fantasies are there
As you and I once knew them, loved them till
We came to staleness and to foolish fear
Lest something change, be different, jolt our will!
'Tis life they seek, not sin, no sordid thing,
But joy in health and beauty, and in all
The urge of thrilling bodies that would sing
And freely dance with laughter at earth's call.
Let's laugh with them, full knowing that when tried
By Truth and Duty, Youth is on God's side!

PARENT-TEACHER PRAYER

Thou who art our Creator and our God:

We thank Thee for all the blessings Thou hast bestowed upon us, more especially for the children and our relation to them. We ask that Thou wilt endow us with wisdom and strength as we care for and nurture them. May we be Thine instruments to lead our children to a realization of Thy power and Thy love.

Bless Thou our fellowship as we work for the children of our land. Lead us in steadfastness and faith toward the solution of the great problems that confront our world today.

Consecrate us to Thy service and to the service of all children everywhere.

Amen

Kenneth at McCandless Arnold, Pa.

ALLEN B. HERMAN, Pastor

Final Farewell

For sixty-six years
The number being graduated
From Arnold High School
Increased . . . from 5 to 55 to 105 to 15
Until thousands had records
Of intramural achievements . . .
Of extra-curricular activities . . .
At Arnold High School.
The pedantic march
Was ever onward and upward
From Leishman Avenue . . .
To Victoria Avenue . . .
To Orchard Avenue (later Alcoa Drive).

Now as the name Arnold Campus
Fades from the academic horizon
Of the Allegheny-Kiski Valley,
The bearers of that name
Will be its living echoes:
voices ring in the autumn air . . .
footprints mark the silent snow . . .
labors blossom in the vernal valley . . .
successes cast a ruddy glow . . .

*These are everlasting echoes
of
Arnold High School
and
Arnold Campus of Valley High*

Be amused by the baby pictures.
Be charmed by the senior portraits.
Be entertained by the candid shots.
Be challenged by the unusual copy.
Be intrigued by the strange layouts.
Be pleased with –
PAGES FOR PONDERING

Some books readily expose their contents and openly reveal their purposes. Other books expose their contents to those alone who seek to know and reveal their purposes to those alone who seek to understand. This 1970 VALAKRON belongs to the latter category.

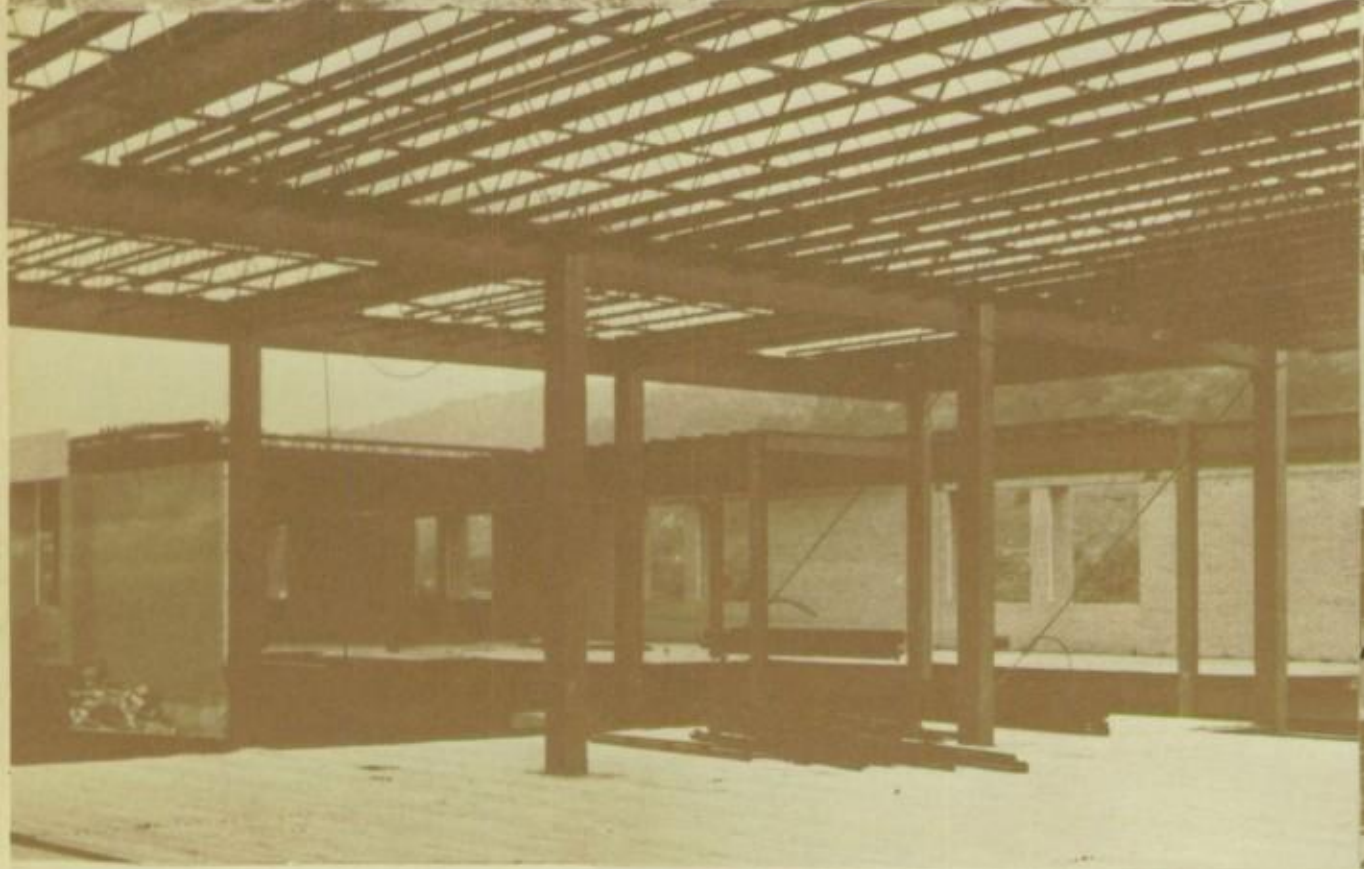

Its end pages present the reconstruction at the Arnold and New Kensington Campuses. Many pages have a bit of copy for future pondering.

*Weigh its worth
Balance its beauty
Ponder its pages*
